

Bracelet making patterns-easy diy bracelets out of leather cord and seed beads

I made the easy diy bracelets from leather cord and versatile tiny seed beads. To practice the bracelet making patterns may only takes you 10 minutes or less. For beginners, I recommend this guide.

Firstly when I came up with the easy diy bracelets ideas, i was a little anxious about the types of beads which would have large enough hole for allowing the leather cord to pass through. Fortunately, I find the seed beads and some decorative stones and imitated pearl beads with large hole. In the following, let's check the actual bracelet making patterns.

Supplies for easy diy bracelets:

- Leather cord
- 4mm Round Seed Bead
- Gemstone bead
- Imitated pearl bead
- S-hook clasp
- Cord end tip
- Glue

Details in the bracelet making patterns:

Step1: preparations

1. Snip 4 strands of 15~20cm long leather cords;
2. Drip several glue into cord end tip;
3. Align the starting of all 4 strands and feed them into the cord end tip;
4. Let it dry for a few minutes.

Step2: slide on the beads

1. Slide your seed beads and decorative beads with a completely random pattern;
2. Do not fill the leather stripes totally if you wanna them be overlapping.

Step3: add on another end tip and clasp at meanwhile

1. Attach on another cord end tip in same way;
2. Add on your clasp.

And seriously, that's it! Love these easy diy bracelets? It does showcase perfectly on my wrist and earns a considerable number of compliments for me all the time. For more sparkling bracelet making patterns, you're always being warmly welcomed to our pandahall!

Getting more string and bead bracelets making ideas, please visit the page at:

<http://www.pandahall.com/learning-center/Bracelets/grid-8-p1.html>