How to make bracelet holder?

Step1: make the hanger part

1. Drill a small hole at the center of the magazine. Make it fit to the size of Wine bottle cork you have selected;
2. Take your magazine and roll it tightly;
3. Slide on the smallest one of all you bracelets and bangles, then adjust the size of magazine roll gradually until it may fit the bracelet perfectly;

4. Use 2 long straps of tape to the two ends of your roll so that the magazine will not spread out when take off the bracelet;
5. Start to wrap your magazine roll with fabric. At the end, apply hot glue to the edge of fabric. Try folding it one more time for a smooth edge. Next, attach the edge to the fabric roll. Tuck the excess fabric into the ends of magazine roll;
6. Visualize the hole drilled at beginning;
7. Insert the wine cork tightly. Secure with drops of glue.

Step2: assemble a base for the hanger

Dab a few glue to the leftover portions of wine cork, next plug the wine cork into the candle holder. Let it dry until you're sure the cork will not move any more.

Once you've done all the above steps, congratulations, you have already had your bracelet holder now. Just slip all you bracelets and bangles, then enjoy and admire your work! Via the creative craft ideas on how to make bracelet holder at home, you will not need to cost any extra pennies. What a cost-effective plan.
