

How do you make jewelry-diy hair accessories in versatile usage

Today's diy hair accessories were inspired by a piece of versatile jewelry ornament. Once finished one, you can use it as hair ornament, necklace, bracelet or even a belt. How do you make jewelry this time?

Figure out how do you make jewelry can be a truly satisfying hobby. For my own, I love when something can be utilized in so many occasions and circumstances, not just for fashion, but as an awesome décor as well. Keep reading to see how I diy hair accessories and worn it. You will love it, I promise.

Things needed in diy hair accessories:

- Circular Rhinestone Acrylic bead
- Elastic thread
- Navy Grosgrain Satin Ribbon
- Sewing thread
- Needle
- Scissors

How do you make jewelry then?

Step1: make the central bead adornment

1. Cut 4 segments from the elastic thread, each about 3cm long;
2. Thread one short elastic thread through two of beads as picture show;
3. Complete the thread by sewing with thread and needle;
4. Add on rest 4 beads in same way.

Step2: DIY hair accessories

1. Prepare a strip of grosgrain stain ribbon and ensure it is with sufficient length;
2. Weave your ribbon through the first bead from front to back, and then the last bead from inverse direction;
3. Tie two ribbon ends together and pull two strands equal length.

In the rest time, all things need to handle are decide where you'll put it on. You may also choose to cut two pieces of ribbon strips and simply tie up to the beginning and last beads, or even slip-knot them. Actually, there are lots of options. Whether be worn as fashion jewelry such as the diy hair accessories or match with any outfit as adornment, I really love my way making the piece.

Many more wonderful hair accessory tutorials can be found at:

<http://www.pandahall.com/learning-center.html>