

Cool DIY Jewelry-Valentines' Gifts for Him out of Hex Nuts

Every girl wonder to own a piece of extremely individual and cool diy jewelry, and so does the Boy. Thus, here I'd share some extraordinary valentines' gifts for him on the memorable occasion.

In the official love day, all of you deserve to celebrate your love-that is just what Valentine's Day is all about. For that day, all girls will tend to be thrilled and ooh and ah over the sweet chocolate, flowers and taste foods. What about the ignored men? In fact, it's much easier to satisfy a male. There is a never-failing way: create an entirely handmade cool diy jewelry. When it is truly handmade, it is definitely from the heart. Just remain your decision and set out to the valentines' gifts for him now:

Materials needed:

- Hex nuts
- Suede cord
- Jump ring
- Wire-cutter Plier

Instructions:

Step1: arrange the hex nuts

As its special structure, the hex nuts can be easily assembled for any shape you desire. Obviously, for the approaching Valentine's Day, the must-have pattern is the heart shape. Arrange the hex nuts in accord to that in following photo:

Step2: connect each hex nut

By using your pliers, open the Jump rings and combine each adjoining hex nut.

Step3: attach on the suede cord

Simply tie the cord around the two top hex nuts or attach by using the Jump rings and crimp beads.

Whatever, besides the suede cord, you can also choose the chain or other handmade things instead. Either way, for a man, the leather and suede cord are most fitful. Like this cool diy jewelry? Or already can't wait to make more pendants and valentines' gifts for him? Just follow the sudden ideas occurred in unexpected moments.
