

Fashionable girls' necklaces-DIY fabric necklace

How to make trendy and eco-friendly girls necklaces? Easily use the overhand knots and leftover fabric scraps or old T-shirts for a DIY fabric necklace which coordinates perfect with any outfit.

Spring is almost gone and it is time to show off your beautiful necks. The DIY fabric necklace is a perfect quickly-made gift for yourself before the arriving of hot summer. By using some leftover scraps of fabric or out-of-date cloth, you can make a bunch of exclusive girls' necklaces at home willfully and speedily.

Materials needed in DIY fabric necklace:

- Fabric
- Chain
- Scissors
- Jumpring

Step-by-step instructions for the girls' necklaces:

Step1: prepare the fabric strips

1. Rip the fabric into strips, each about 2.5cm wide;
2. Stretch them apart so that they will turn into

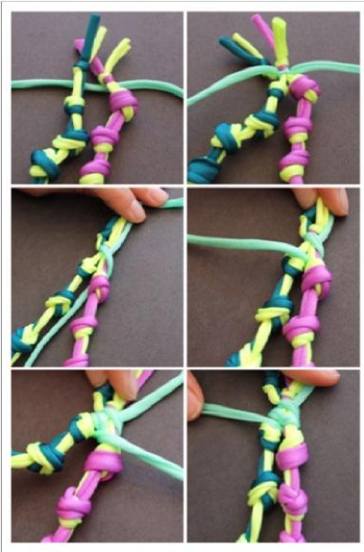

Step2: knot the patterns

1. Group each two strands of fabric strips in one, work the overhand knot every 1cm distance. Prepare the groups 6 or more for

2. Hold one end of all the above elements and tie up with another fabric strip side by side;

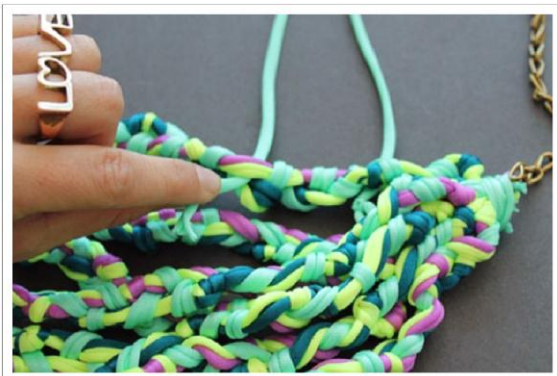

Attach on the chain and trim off the ends after ensure its fastness.

Lay out the branches on flat and arrange them into the pattern you desired. Bind the other end in same way and then add on the other tip of chain.

That's it!

While that DIY fabric necklace might be a fun splurge every now and then, why not try it right now by your hands. It's inexpensive and brings you to the group of "green"! Besides the fabric, to recycle the buttons, sequins and adornment elements for your statement girls necklaces can be also stunning ideas!

Getting more necklace making ideas please click:

<http://www.pandahall.com/learning-center/Necklaces/grid-7-p1.html>